Re: Enrolling 20-29 Hour Per Week Employees

I acknowledge the California Legislature passed Senate Bill 1790 to take effect on January 1, 1999. I understand that this bill allows employers the option to expand the definition of eligible employees to include those working a minimum of 20 hours per week when all other eligibility criteria is met.

I am including coverage for these employees at this time and I will maintain at least 70% participation including the 20-29 hour per week employees and acknowledge that the employer contribution for these employees will remain the same as all other employees.

Furthermore, I understand that once coverage has gone into effect for the 20-29 hour per week employees it must be maintained until my group's anniversary date.
